March of Dimes Aids Child Polio Victim; She Dedicates Herself to Helping Blind

At one despairing point during Mary Jo Phillips' seven-year confinement in a hospital near Boston, and while she was an ironing prisoner of polio, a nursing nun read aloud to the frightened little girl these words of the tormented Job:

"I was eyes to the blind." Mary Jo, herself tormented after seven operations and three months in an iron lung, never forgot Job's words. At Kennedy Memorial Hospital, Bright, on a nun and physical therapist suggested that since the sight of the blind touched Mary Jo deeply, she might want to try her hand at transcribing Braille.

Nothing interested her more. Mary Jo's fascination with learning to write for the sightless was healthy in two ways. Physically, the manual effort of applying the Braille awl to the fingerboard strengthened her thin arms and fingers once paralyzed by polio. And spiritually, this labor of love for those even more terribly afflicted than she expressed gratitude to God at surviving her own ordeal.

The first words Mary Jo wrote in Braille for the blind to read through their fingers, were those of the unhappy Job. (The Old Testament patriarch was reminding the Lord of his own suffering because of his own sin.)

Mary Jo, who is 14 and has spent half of those years in hospitals, now is home with her overjoyed parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips of Whitman, Mass. In her wheel chair, the child continues her plucky fight today against the ravages of bulbar polio.

With $25,000 in March of Dimes contributions, The National Foundation has brought Mary Jo along to the point where she can type slowly, write, paint water colors, dress herself "with just a little help," and even walk a few steps supported by her crutches.

But above all, the little girl is devoted to her labors with Braille. When she completes the "bible" that is now far from her, "Standard English

Using special awl for writing in Braille, Mary Jo Phillips punches out text on fingerboard.

WHEN IS A LAXATIVE DANGEROUS?

Appendicitis is one of our worst killers and only because of neglecting to get medical attention in time. Most fatal cases develop when taking a laxative or cathartic to relieve stomach or abdominal pains, one of the symptoms.

That is why a laxative or any home remedy should only be secured from a pharmacist. We can caution you against unsafe use and tell you when a physician's advice is preferable.

The amount of labor used in farming is about one-half the amount used in 1940.

—SOIL NEWS—

By T. C. Seir and Billy Taylor

Mrs. C. W. Mixon of the Curtis community, who is a cooperator with the Coffee County Soil Conservation District, is interested in improving crop land, pasture and woodland. Parallel terraces and grassed waterways have been installed on a majority of the cropland. Basia Grass was planted on a 12-acre field recently. This land had been out of row crops for some time.

On the Mixon farm, approximately 10,000 slash pine seedlings will be planted this season. These seedlings will be planted on woodland where poor stands of pine now exist.

The amount of labor used in farming is about one-half the amount used in 1940.

Market Street! Just a handful of shopping days before Christmas! The best-organized parade of the year!

Every marcher has been summoned by advertisements... inspired by the joy of giving. Each has a destination, an objective, a mission. And there's a kind of desperate dedication in it all: everyone searching for something someone else needs!

But never confuse the December parade with the real dedication of Christmas.

What every soul needs is not displayed in windows. And Christmas means nothing unless it means: ALL WE REALLY NEED... GOD HAS GIVEN!

In the church of your choice, dedicate your life anew to the Christ Child.
